Case - Timothy N. Pfeiffer, Subject - Homicide, New Brunswick, N.J., DEM/Parker, Mills Investigation - Mr. DeM.

left ear, taking a downward direction - That Mrs. Mills has three such wounds in her head, taking a downward course; two at about the same angle as Mr.
Hall's but coming out in the back of the head, and one in the forehead at about the right eye - Two of the bullets which were steel jackets, were inside of the skull, and one between the skull and the scalp; the bullets were not very much mutilated. He was unable to tell me whether it was a right or left-hand rifling. He said that Mr. Hall's Watch, Fob and Wallet are missing, and he thought that Schneider might have stolen them for the reason he has secured information that Schneider had gone to Philadelphia, on Monday, September 18th, 1922. That the bodies were discovered by Schneider and Pearl Bahmer in the following manner:- They were walking along the road when they noticed the two persons lying there, thinking they had fallen asleep, as a fire had taken place either that day or the night before, they walked past about fifteen feet, Pearl Bahmer said that she noticed blood, they both walked back, and someone said "they are dead." Pearl Bahmer got frightened and ran away, going to DeRussey's Lane, and from there to Easton Avenue - Schneider did not follow her, but joined her at Easton Avenue sometime later. He said that Schneider had ample time to pilfer the bodies. The letters were not scattered over the bodies, but were lying between the bodies.

     Mr. Totten said that on account of the people being 'New Brunswickers,' after a few days he thought it advisable to have them assist in the investigation, and it was his impression as the investigation went along that the Middlesex County Officials were trying to cover the Hall family, and for that reason he suspected the Hall's. But since then he found out that State Trooper Lamb was associating with newspaper men down around the Hotel Klein; they gambled and drank together, getting Lamb fighting, and in that manner secured the information from him. Also that Detective David was handing out infor-
